

A detailed line drawing of a vanity cabinet. The cabinet features a countertop with a rectangular sink and three faucet holes. Below the countertop, there are two rows of drawers. The top row has a wide central drawer and two narrower side drawers. The bottom row has four drawers of varying widths. In the center of the bottom row, there is a cabinet with two doors featuring horizontal louvered panels. The cabinet is supported by four legs, with the front legs being slightly tapered. Dimension lines are shown on the left and bottom of the cabinet, indicating its height, width, and depth.
